EARLIEST NEWSPAPER REPORT OF UFO

Charles and Gill Refoy, former members of the Surrey Earth Mysteries Group, sent me the following report from the Sunday Express on 29th November 2015. It was about what could be the earliest report of a UFO from a newspaper:

Hull's Close Encounters of the 1801 Kind

By Mark Branagan

Earth's first visit from aliens occurred in 1801 in Hull, astonishing research suggests. A huge moon-like orb appeared over the city, bathing the streets in a strange blue light and baffling residents. The UFO sighting is backed up by newspaper reports from July 1801. They were unearthed by Hull historian and author Mike Covell, who was investigating references in UFO studies from the 1950s to a sighting somewhere "over the north-east of England" in 1801. Mr. Covell, 37, trawled newspaper archives from the early 1800s and was astonished when he found that the phenomenon actually occurred on June 19, 1801, in his home city. At the time, Hull was home to little more than 27,000 people and was only just establishing itself as a port, the first dock having been built 23 years previously.

It was about midnight on Friday when eyewitnesses saw "an immense moon with a black bar across it" loom over the Humber estuary. The Northampton Mercury reported: "It seemed then to form itself into seven small distinct moons or globes of fire which disappeared for the space of a few seconds. Its reappearance was equally brilliant, at first showing itself like the face of the moon, afterwards in five circular balls, and lastly like seven small stars, which gradually faded away, leaving the whole atmosphere brilliantly illuminated.

The Chester Chronicle observed: "During the time of its being visible, a faint blue light fell on the surrounding objects, like that of different torches. And when entirely gone the appearance was serene, like a fine summer's morning.

Mr. Covell visited the former British Library Newspapers site at Colindale and history centres to unearth a string of articles about the sighting. He said: "It bathed the whole city in blue light, which must have been terrifying. Everyone was baffled and trying to figure out what it was. It is the oldest sighting we have managed to track down so far. "There are a lot of portraits showing stuff flying about in the sky from Biblical times. But it is all open to interpretation, whereas this is real evidence. I just wanted to find UFO sightings connecting to Hull, so to find records of the oldest one to be properly documented was astonishing."

He added that his only disappointment was that there were no sketches of what happened.

Alien Contact 2016 -UK to disclose secret UFO files in March

In March 2016 The British government is set to release shocking evidence of Alien contact, when 18 classified files are due to be released. The UK government however has recently stated these files will not be made public due to "sensitive" material. It has been claimed by ex Government employees that at least 2 of these files contain clear evidence of UFO landings and Alien contact.

In 2005 the British government admitted conducting a thorough 30 year long scientific study into UFOs, after years of denial. The results of this research have been locked away – and will not be made available to the public for at least 50 years.

We don't think this research is related to the recovery of crashed saucers or clandestine meetings with aliens. It looks like much of their material is related to the Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence (Seti) and the implications of alien contact. Some of the research relates to UFO sightings in Germany, Scotland and France – according to references made in other released documents.

Obama Alien Evidence 2016

Will Obama beat the British in revealing Alien evidence? It is clear that President Obama is aware of the UFO phenomenon, but like as all former presidents, he fails to release the secret UFO documents. This may change before March 2016.

It is also known that Hillary Clinton has long had an interest in UFOs and the existence of extraterrestrial life and has been putting pressure on the White House to reveal all!

Intelligent radio waves from a distant planet?

Astronomers have picked up five mysterious unidentified radio signals that could originate from outside the Milky Way. Has the telescope picked up signals of aliens from another galaxy? The "fast radio bursts" included one "double signal" never heard before and have left astronomers buzzing with excitement over the possibility of it being a message with alien origins. Only 11 of the unidentified transient radio pulses have been recorded before around the world. And it is the curious new double blast – which was accompanied by four "singles" – which has baffled astronomers analysing data from the Parkes radio telescope in New South Wales, Australia.

Emily Petroff from Swinburne University, in Melbourne, one of the team who discovered the signals, believes the origin could be more remarkable than anything recorded before. She tweeted: "We have no idea what's going on, but we know it's definitely something cool."

Ten of the bizarre flashes have been picked up by radio telescope over the past 15 years, displaying a mathematical pattern that has bamboozled experts, in a real-life version of the 1997 sci-fi film Contact. Lasting just a few milliseconds, the radio bursts erupt with about as much energy as the sun releases in a month, New Scientist reports. It all started last year at the CSIRO's Parkes Telescope in central-west New South Wales, which last year picked up a radio burst in real-time, a world first that sparked a hunt through data that unearthed nine similar events. The Parkes radio telescope in NSW was the first to detect a fast burst of radio waves (FRB) last year. What makes them so unusual is that the delay between the arrival of the first and last waves of each burst is always close to a multiple of 187.5, a mathematical phenomenon for which no explanation has been found. The brevity of the bursts, and the distance between their lower and higher frequency waves, means they are likely to come from a source that is both extremely small — hundreds of kilometres across at most — and very far away, possibly in another galaxy.

The analysis was undertaken by Michael Hippke of the Institute for Data Analysis in Neukirchen-Vluyn, Germany, and John Learned at the University of Hawaii in Manoa, who concluded that there was a 5 in 10,000 probability of the mathematical phenomenon being a coincidence. The researchers explored several possible explanations for the fast bursts of radio waves, but concur the best solution is an alien broadcast.

The discovery is being compared in significance to the recording of the “Wow signal” — a strong narrowband radio wave found by Jerry Ehman in 1977. That radio burst, picked up by the Big Ear radio telescope of The Ohio State University in the United States, bore all the expected hallmarks of non-terrestrial origin but has not been detected since.

Alien captured on film in 1930's Alaska

Hidden for years, this picture taken in the 1930's in Alaska captures a strange alien looking figure! Local legends claim a UFO landed in a remote area of Alaska, and “small odd looking” entities wandered the snow covered land for weeks.

The picture was taken in the early 1930s by the current owner's grandfather, who lived in Alaska. The entity was first seen when the grandfather was on his way to a lake. He chased the entity until he got close enough to take this one picture. It was some four months before the photograph was developed, being in in a remote, sparsely populated area. The sender received the picture from his grandfather only last week. His grandfather died the day after giving him the photo, and relating his story.

UFO sighting in Bolton: Family 'gobsmacked' as four mysterious objects zoomed across sky

By John Shammass

A family claim their barbecue was interrupted by four UFOs 'zooming across the sky' - quickly followed by a Ministry of Defence helicopter.

Andrea Finney, from Bolton, Lancashire, was enjoying a pleasant outdoor family meal with her husband Nigel and their son when the mysterious event left them spooked. The 48-year-old, who works in property management, told Mirror Online: "There were four of them, and they zoomed across the sky".

Andrea Finney and her husband Nigel witnessed 4 UFO's in total. The family could not explain what they had just seen.

"You just had to be there to see it, it was the strangest thing I have ever seen in my life. They zoomed off after we spotted them, and the craziest thing was that they were then followed by a Ministry of Defence helicopter. I was just gobsmacked."

Upon seeing the UFOs, she alerted her husband Nigel to get a camera. The 50-year-old delivery driver said: "I took photos as quick as I could. We just could not explain it. They were not hot air balloons. They were not Chinese lanterns. They were just something else. Andrea Finney and her husband Nigel witnessed 4 UFO's in total.

"Our camera does not have a good zoom on it or anything - it is just a normal camera, so we took what we could but afterwards we just could not explain it. It's a mystery."

Call for UN probe after 'Bear pictured walking on Mars'

By Jon Austin

A alien investigator has called for a United Nations probe into "discoveries of life on Mars" amid claims Nasa is ignoring "evidence" of animals on the Red Planet, including the latest so-called discovery - a bear.

An image taken from Nasa's online database of Mars photographs has been posted online by UFO hunters amid claims it "clearly" shows a bear or other four-legged mammal walking on the surface of the Red Planet. One of them, Scott C Waring, who edits website UFO Sightings Daily, is convinced it is a bear and the real deal.

He posts, on an almost daily basis, an array of the Nasa images - which are taken by its 4WD Curiosity Rover currently exploring the Martian surface and beamed back to Earth - and points out what he says are "aliens, crabs, statues, buildings, other objects, and even crashed UFOs" hidden among the rocks.

Of the latest find, he said: "This creature has real hair as seen from the shadows around its body. That means its not a statue, but a living creature.

This bear-like animal was discovered by Paranormal Crucible of Youtube.

"He has been making some great discoveries lately and this one takes the cake. I took the screenshots above directly from the NASA URL he gave, and I confirm, it is there."

Paranormal Crucible itself made no claim of it being a bear, but suggested it was a possible "hybrid rodent" or prairie dog-type creature. The channel is also convinced it is proof of well-evolved animals roaming the Red Planet. The narrator said: "It would appear, judging by this official Nasa image, that Mars does indeed have a species of rodent. But whatever this strange creature truly is, it confirms yet again that exotic Martian life does really exist on the Red Planet."

Disclosure from the Pope?

There is a new Internet rumor that Pope Francis is about disclose information that they are preparing for alien contact on June 15, 2015. But is this really true? Well, according to Daniel P. Sheehan, a Harvard College-educated American government and foreign policy scholar, we are about to receive announcement about the ET presence very soon. Sheehan, who was one of the main speakers at the Ufology conference 'Contact In The Desert,' held at Joshua Tree, California, has made some pretty fantastic statements.

According to Daniel Sheehan, the Catholic Church is now actively preparing for the discovery of alien contact with a highly advanced alien species. Speaking at Contact in the Desert, he told of what will be an historic papal encyclical decree calling for nothing less than the disassembling of the power structures that are destroying our civilization and preventing us from joining an enlightened galactic community.

Pope Francis previously caused quite a stir last year when he announced that he would baptize aliens, quite a statement and a timely one at that, given the fact the Vatican owns the biggest telescope on the planet.

Former Ministry Of Defence employee Nick Pope told Neon Nettle: "It's no secret that the Catholic Church has been repositioning themselves on this issue over the past few years. Do they know something? I doubt it. I think they're just trying to ensure that if the scientific community announces the discovery of extraterrestrial life, the church is prepared.”

Sheehan’s talk began with a summary of his previous work as an advocate for alien disclosure which, he says, also included classified sections from Project Blue Book (a study into UFOs by the US Air Force). He went on to say that his access to Blue Book gave him exposure to photographic evidence of crashed UFOs that had alien symbols on them.

Sheehan also described why Pope Francis wants to avoid the magnitude of chaos that took over the Catholic church when Galileo announced that Earth was not the center of the Universe. He continued that Pope Francis wants to position the Catholic church and the Jesuit order to be able to accept a major shift in human consciousness as a result of alien existence, as well as the evolution of a 6th faculty of human consciousness. The 6th faculty will constitute a new form of religion and contact between humans and advanced telepathic aliens. So, in a nutshell? Well, from what Sheehan had just described, it looks like the largest single religious denomination on Earth is now mobilizing for the disclosure of ETs. If that is indeed the case, then it’s pretty damn exciting.

WITNESS SUPPLIES VIDEO OF UFO AFTER CONTACT WRITTEN BY DR MICHAEL SALLA ON APRIL 11, 2014.

The popular website Third Phase of the Moon supplied more video footage from one of its viewers who claims to be an extraterrestrial contactee. “Ed”, who is yet to reveal his full name, claims that his contacts started in 1976. He said that while he was a young boy he witnessed a UFO with his uncle who was a former lieutenant in the US Army. Ed claims that soon after, he began having contact experiences with aliens in their spacecraft that continue to the present day. What makes Ed’s stories of contact different to others is that he has remarkably clear footage supporting his claims.

Yesterday’s video footage was recorded in 1987 and shows a UFO taking off during the night. It is emitting a powerful light towards the ground, and is the classic saucer shape. According to Ed, the light was used to both teleport him into the ship, and back to Earth. It was silent as it took off suggesting that the light was not related to any kind of propellant as would be expected from a rocket engine or vertical takeoff aircraft. Ed claims that he travelled back to his truck and then filmed in the direction where the spacecraft was situated, and filmed it as it took off. The approximate size of the spacecraft was approximately 80-120 feet wide, and about 50-80 feet high. He said that the extraterrestrial that communicated with him and that he met on the ship was named “Voss”. Ed has supplied other video footage from his archive that is compelling evidence for his extraordinary claims. One video released on March 26 in particular is a classic flying saucer captured during daylight hours. His videos are fast becoming the most compelling from a US based contactee since the extraordinary George Adamski who thrilled audiences around the world with his stories and photos of alien contact in the 1950s and 1960s. Ed appears sincere in his claims and is currently providing a series of interviews to Blake Cousins founder of Third Phase of the Moon. The latest video supports Ed’s main contention that he has been contacted and visited by extraterrestrial visitors since 1976.

Hillary Clinton to open the X-Files: promises to 'get to the bottom' of Area 51 if she becomes President and stuns reporter by saying 'I think we may have been visited already'

Hillary Clinton reportedly made the promise when speaking with The Conway Daily Sun in New Hampshire. She had previously interviewed with the same reporter in 2007. CLINTON PROMISES TO INVESTIGATE UFOS

December 30, 2015 Published in Local News, Conway Daily Sun

By Daymond Steer

CONWAY — Democratic presidential hopeful Hillary Clinton gave UFO enthusiasts a reason to cheer at the close of her recent editorial board meeting with The Conway Daily Sun. During the meeting, the former first lady, former senator from New York and secretary of state answered serious questions about foreign policy and the economy, and at the end, she chatted with this reporter, who had asked her about UFOs in 2007 while working for the Cabinet Press in Milford, NH. She recalled that 2007 exchange with a smile and seemed to have fun discussing the topic. "Yes, I'm going to get to the bottom of it," said Clinton with enthusiasm.

Reporter Daymond Steer asks Democratic candidate Hillary Clinton for her stance on UFOs

Back in 2007, Clinton had said that the No. 1 topic of freedom-of-information requests that her husband, former President Bill Clinton, received at his library was UFOs. In 2014, Bill Clinton told late-night TV host Jimmy Kimmel that he wouldn't be surprised if Earth is visited by aliens since so many planets out there may support life.

"I just hope it's not like Independence Day," said Clinton, referring to a movie about alien invaders. When asked about her husband's nonchalant comment about contact with the third kind, Hillary Clinton responded: "I think we may have been (visited already). We don't know for sure."

Clinton also said she would like to look into Area 51, a secret military base in Nevada that has long been rumored to contain aliens. At first, she called it Area 54 and then corrected herself. But Bill Clinton told Kimmel that he had already looked into Area 51. He said everyone who works there has to stop about an hour away to put on special clothing. Clinton said Area 51 is where stealth technology is made. "There are no aliens there," said Bill Clinton, adding at the anniversary of the supposed Roswell, N.M., crash in 1947, he released all the documents he could on the subject because he knew there would be popular demand. Kimmell had Bill Clinton promise that he would have announced the existence of aliens if he had found them.

Hillary Clinton, while at the Sun, added that the chairman of her campaign, John Podesta, is a huge fan of UFO lore. She said he enjoys a sci-fi show on the FX network. Podesta served as chief of staff to Bill Clinton and counselor to the president for Barack Obama. "He has made me personally pledge we are going to get the information out," said Clinton. "One way or another. Maybe we could have, like, a task force to go to Area 51."

This story has been modified to say that Area 51 is in Nevada and that Steer worked for the Cabinet Press in Milford, NH at the time of the 2007 interview.

Skyways and Landmarks—Tony Wedd's talk in 1968, connecting ley alignments on Earth with sightings of flying saucers, and theorising about earth energy currents utilised by them.

A Visit to Tony Wedd Country—looking at Tony's home area of Kent and seeing the places involved in his writing and talks

Where the Martians Landed—primarily an earth mysteries field trip to Horsell Common in Surrey, site of H. G. Wells fictional landing, but with a postscript of a sighting nearby with seemingly genuine Mars associations

UFOs in Surrey 1967—Sightings in a flap year—beginning with a Panorama TV programme on a skywatch in Surrey, continuing with other sightings that year, and culminating with one involving physical evidence.

THE HIDDEN UNITY and BEGINNINGS

The Hidden Unity looks at the strange phenomenon of subconscious siting of ley points, and notes that places of worship, of all religions and all ages, tend to predominate on leys. The environmental and philosophical implications of this are discussed, and the apparent necessity of worship but irrelevance of doctrine. Two ley centres are given as examples, and investigated in depth - the Shah Jehan Mosque in Woking and the Guru Nanak Sikh Temple, Scunthorpe. There is an appendix by Eileen Grimshaw on the significance of the Pagan religion to this study. Illustrated with photographs, maps and line drawings. £2 plus 30p p&p from the Amskaya address. Beginnings is about a series of potentially useful discoveries, mainly made by Jimmy Goddard over a period of about twenty years, but having some overlap with discoveries made by others. For various reasons, the investigations are all in their early stages, and some have not been continued. They include earth energy detection, natural antigravity, subconscious siting, ley width, and the solar transition effect. There is also a chapter on cognitive dissonance - a psychological factor which seems to have been at the root of all bigotry - scientific, religious and other - down the ages. The booklet is concluded with an account of the discovery of leys by Alfred Watkins. £2 plus 30p p&p from the Amskaya address. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard.

EARTH PEOPLE, SPACE PEOPLE

In 1961, Tony Wedd produced a manuscript Earth Men, Space Men, detailing many claims of extraterrestrial contact. It was never published, and I had thought it was lost, though it has recently been located - Tony had given it to Timothy Good. To try to make up for the loss in a much more modest size, this booklet was prepared. As well as giving details of some of the more prominent contact claims, there are articles on the history of the STAR Fellowship and some of its personalities, evidence for life in the Solar System and investigation into extraterrestrial language.
